

Safety Management Council

Streamline Your Recruiting Process

Many times, recruiting for drivers seems a daunting task. You've got policies and procedures in place, but is the process effective and efficient? Are you spending more time on the administration of the recruiting and hiring process than actually getting qualified drivers in the seat? Tenstreet will be presenting information in streamlining your recruiting process at February's meeting.

About the speaker...

Dale Reagan is vice president/sales for Tenstreet LLC, a software company that specializes in providing driver recruiting, evaluating, screening, processing, and training tools to the trucking industry. He joined Tenstreet after 13 years at DAC/USIS/Hireright, where he worked building the DAC Employment history database, and representing DAC/USIS with state trucking associations, ATA, Truckload Carriers Association, and the National Private Truck Council. Dale's trucking industry experience spans 35 years, and includes driving, operations, management, and sales with private and for-hire fleets.

Who should attend...

Safety directors, safety supervisors, risk and compliance managers, recruiters and operations. Let others in your office know about this program.

Safety Management Council meetings are not intended to endorse any product or service. The meetings are for informational purposes to fulfill the goal of the Safety Management Council, which is to help safety professionals to enhance their skills and stay up-to-date on federal and state regulations and industry best practices.
